Did You Know?

A surprising trend in education: More elite student-athletes are opting out of traditional brick-and-mortar schools for flexible online education such as at the Laurel Springs School. Families can explore available programs and learn find more about admissions opportunities at laurelsprings.com.